Ask those who attend the Multicultural Forum on Workplace Diversity year after year. They'll tell you it's THE event for thought-provoking, compelling and leading edge content and discussion — from advancing talent of color to religion at work.

- Network with more than 1,000 of your peers
- Take part in interactive, relevant and applicable workshops
- Hear from D&I experts in keynote sessions
- Promote the business imperative of diversity in the workplace
- Get the best value for the greatest return on your investment

For details about the Forum's wide array of on-target workshops, Professional Development Institutes, keynote speakers and other features of this year's conference — or to be added to our mailing list — visit StThomas.Edu/MCF.
