Emergency Procedures at the University of St. Thomas

Death of faculty or staff

- If a faculty or staff member dies on campus, Public Safety will secure the immediate area, control the scene and coordinate any law enforcement investigations.

- Any member of the university who learns of the death of faculty or staff, or a member of their immediate family, should inform the Human Resources Department. Typically a department head will be the first contact for the death of an employee. In that instance, the department head should contact the Human Resources Department (after hours, contact the Department of Public Safety who will notify the Human Resources Department).

- The Human Resources Department will inform the Executive Vice President and Provost and the President’s Office.

- The Human Resources Department then will contact the following offices: Dean of Students, Counseling & Psychological Services, Campus Ministry, University Relations and the deceased’s academic or administrative department.

- University Relations will put the information about the death of a faculty or staff member in the Newsroom. The information will include the notice of death, funeral arrangements and information, asking for prayer and support for family and friends of the deceased, and a statement of the availability of personnel from Counseling & Psychological Services or Campus Ministry to assist anyone who is dealing with this crisis.

- The Human Resources Department, the Business Office and the office in which the person was employed will take other necessary actions. The Dean of Students, Campus Ministry, and Counseling & Psychological Services offices will organize any efforts to help members of the St. Thomas community deal with the death (i.e., prayer service or memorial Mass) and will reach out to friends and family members of the deceased in any way that is helpful to them.

- The University Action and Response Team will convene as needed to: a) inform classes about the death and deal with student response; b) offer pastoral response to the needs of any students or colleagues; c) plan any immediate gathering of university members to deal with the news; and (d) decide on the official response from the university (i.e., flowers, personal contact, funeral attendance).

- The Dean of Students Office will contact the appropriate party to toll the chime for 5 minutes at the appropriate announced time.

- The Vice President for Student Affairs Office will update the USTCares website with funeral information.

- Campus Ministry and Counseling & Psychological Services will take appropriate long-term action to help members of the St. Thomas community deal with the death, including emergency debriefing with impacted faculty, staff, and/or students.
Death of a student (graduate or undergraduate)

- If a student dies while on campus, Public Safety will secure the immediate area, control the scene and coordinate any law enforcement investigations.

- Any member of the university who learns of the death of a student should inform the Dean of Students Office, which in turn will notify the offices listed below.

- When one of the alumni dies, notify the Alumni Office and the University Registrar’s Office.

- In the case of an undergraduate student, the University Action and Response Team will convene to: a) determine how classes will be informed about the death and to assist in dealing with student response; b) offer pastoral response to the needs of any students or professors; c) plan an immediate gathering of university members to deal with the news; and (d) decide on the official response from the university (i.e., flowers, personal contact, funeral attendance).

A. The Dean of Students will do the following:

1. Verify accuracy by asking for a complete name and address; in some cases, there are two or more students with the same name.

2. Notify the President’s Office, the Executive Vice President and Provost, Vice President for Student Affairs, University Registrar’s Office, Campus Ministry, and University Relations. A message will be sent to all members of the University Action and Response Team.

3. Work with Campus Ministry and Counseling & Psychological Services to determine other appropriate responses, including emergency debriefing with impacted faculty, staff, and/or students.

4. If the student is a resident, Residence Life and Campus Ministry will take necessary action regarding personal property and notification of roommate, floor community and students in the residence hall.

5. Notify the on-campus Post Office, which in turn will close the student's mailbox and forward first-class mail to the student’s next of kin.

6. Contact the appropriate party to toll the chime for 5 minutes at the appropriate announced time.

7. Work with the Vice President for Student Affairs Office to update the USTCares website with funeral information.

B. University Relations will do the following:

1. Publish a notice of the death and other pertinent information in the Newsroom. This information should include notification of death, funeral arrangements, asking for prayer and support for family and friends of the deceased, and a statement of availability for assistance from Counseling & Psychological Services and Campus Ministry.
C. Pastoral and support response:
   1. In the case of the death of a student who lives in a residence hall, staff from Residence Life, Counseling & Psychological Services, and Campus Ministry will decide on the appropriate response to the students in the residence hall including how and when to gather and notify members of the floor community and residence hall.

   2. For commuter students, the Dean of Students or Campus Ministry will respond to any roommates or housemates of the deceased and will contact family members to offer any appropriate support.

   3. Campus Ministry and any other pertinent university personnel will gather in the days following the death to develop appropriate follow-up with family members, friends and classmates. Campus Ministry also will offer the possibility of a memorial Mass or prayer service that could be held at the university.

   4. Campus Ministry and Counseling & Psychological Services will deal with any long-term follow-up for those dealing with the death.

D. The University Registrar’s Office will do the following:
   1. Change addresses
      For undergraduates make all addresses inactive except parent and guardian addresses.
      For graduate students deactivate all addresses except permanent (SPAIDEN)

   2. For currently enrolled students complete a withdrawal according to procedures with a W9 and remove future registrations (SFAREGS).

   3. Place a registration hold on student account using code 00 (SOAHOLD).

   4. Change general student record to IS, inactive (SGASTDN or SFAREGS – depending upon registration status) or create new general student record if death occurs between academic terms.

   5. Check the “deceased” flag and enter the date (SPAPERS).

   7. In the case of a death of a graduate student, contact the Director and Registrar for said student’s program so they may handle the above-stated concerns.

E. The Business Office will do the following:
   1. In the event of the death of a student during the semester all monies paid for him/her during the semester are refunded to the parent or spouse. This does not include gift aid, so check with Financial Aid about any loans, grants, etc that may need to be reversed off the account before crediting payment for tuition and fees. Upon submission of a death certificate to the lender all federal loans are forgiven.

   2. Check with the Registrar’s Office first to see if they are dropping the student, which might give the student an automatic refund through the system. Also check and see if they have a confirming deposit; release that and put the credit on the student account so it can be included on the check.

3. Request a hand check (through AP) so the proper person’s name is on the check. Contact the Vice President for Student Affairs Office to pick up the check. The Vice President for Student Affairs will either take it to the family or write a letter of condolence and mail the check. The Registrar’s Office changes the address and codes the account so the family receives no mailings from the university.

Suicide attempts on campus

In the case of a suicide attempt on campus, the person who finds a student in this crisis first should call (96)2-5555 or 911 and report the incident as a medical emergency.

Response to a suicide attempt of an undergraduate resident student:

1. Appropriate staff members from Residence Life and Campus Ministry will develop a plan for dealing with roommates, the floor community and potentially the full community in the residence hall.

2. The on-call psychologist will be contacted as necessary (either at the time of the suicide attempt or during the next work day) to further determine appropriate follow-up action for the student who attempted suicide and for the student residential community.

3. If there are roommates or a circle of friends who have been affected by the suicide attempt in any manner, Counseling & Psychological Services and Campus Ministry will meet with them to determine assistance.

Response to suicide attempt of an undergraduate commuter student:

1. Faculty or staff who hear of a suicide attempt by a commuter student should contact the Dean of Students Office at (96)2-6050 and/or Counseling & Psychological Services at (96)2-6780 to report the incident.

2. Counseling & Psychological Services should make every feasible effort to contact and offer assistance to the student. Appropriate and mutually agreed-upon action should take place between the student and Counseling & Psychological Services.

Regarding the family of any undergraduate student who attempts suicide:
The appropriate Student Affairs staff (Residence Life for residents; Dean of Students for commuters) should meet with the student who attempted suicide to responsibly assess what motivated the student and to develop an immediate plan for follow-up. The follow-up will include contacting an appropriate parent/guardian/family member regarding the incident. In very unusual circumstances, the appropriate Student Affairs member, in consultation with the Vice President for Student Affairs, may make a decision not to contact a family member.

Response to a graduate student who attempts suicide:

1. Public Safety will assist in responding to the medical emergency. They will contact an on-call psychologist to report the incident.

2. If the student desires assistance or guidance, Counseling & Psychological Services will meet with the student to jointly determine follow-up.
Response to a serious accident or injury to a student

1. The office that learns of the incident will contact the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will contact the Vice President for Student Affairs, Academic Dean of the College/School in which the student is enrolled, Academic Counseling and Support, Counseling & Psychological Services, Campus Ministry and University Relations.

2. Campus Ministry and Counseling & Psychological Services will strategize about the appropriate pastoral and therapeutic responses, which will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

3. Academic Counseling and Support and Counseling & Psychological Services will contact:
   - The student's professors. Counseling & Psychological Services or Campus Ministry will be available (if asked) to assist professors in conveying the news and dealing with students who may be affected.
   - Enhancement Services for appropriate accommodations (if required).

4. Students in residence halls:
   Residence Life, Campus Ministry or other pertinent parties will meet to determine an appropriate action for:
   - The student.
   - The student's roommate, the floor community, and possibly the full residential community.
   - Family and friends.

5. The Office of the Dean of the College/School in which the student is enrolled will contact the Business Office and University Registrar if there are concerns about finances, billing and the student dropping classes.
6. University Relations will send an email message to the St. Thomas community to ask for prayer and support for the student.

Response to acts of violence on-campus
The following is a general response if a violent incident takes place on campus:
1. St. Thomas Public Safety and the local police will respond immediately to the crisis and address the needs of the victim, address the aggressor and handle crowd control.

2. The University Action and Response Team will organize appropriate university personnel to determine a response to the incident.

3. University Relations will address internal and external publications and information, and will appoint a university spokesperson to deal with the media and public inquiries.

4. The University Action and Response Team will convene to analyze the crisis, determine an appropriate plan to address the faculty, staff, and students, and to develop a long-term follow-up plan.

Response to physical or natural disaster on-campus
1. Public Safety will respond immediately to a crisis and will contact the local police, fire department or paramedics, and the University of St. Thomas Physical Plant.

2. Public Safety will contact one of the members of the University Action and Response Team with details of the crisis.

3. The University Action and Response Team will gather to determine an appropriate response.

4. The University Action and Response Team will call upon pertinent personnel from the university community to respond to the crisis.

5. University Relations will address internal and external publications and information, and will appoint a university spokesperson to deal with the media and public inquiries.

6. After the crisis has passed, the University Action and Response Team will analyze the crisis and decide on any necessary long-term follow-up.
