Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live?

I recommend where I currently live exclusively because it has full skyway access. The building amenities aren't anything special and I think it's expense for the size/appearances of the apartment. That said, having skyway access not only to school, but basically to everything downtown was worth it.

Q16 Are there any helpful resources you used that you want to share?

Amy from CORT was wonderful. Sweet and efficient. Thanks to her, by April I already had an apartment lined up.

Q2 In which area or neighborhood do you currently live? Loring Park

Q3 If you live in a specific complex, please share the name, i.e. LaSalle Apartments, Laurel Village, Bolero Flats, etc.

Copenhagen Apartments

Q4 What is the TOTAL monthly housing payment or rent for the place you live? Other, Other (please specify): 800-1,200

Q5 What amount do YOU pay monthly of your housing payment or rent? 1001-1250

Q6 Besides rent or mortgage, what does your housing payment include? Check all that apply.

Heat, Water, Trash, Other (please specify additional costs you pay beyond your rent): Maintenance

Q7 Do you live with a roommate, partner/spouse or family member? Family member
| Q8 | If yes, how many people do you live with? | 3 |
| Q9 | If you live with a roommate, how did you find your current roommate? | N/A |
| Q10 | Do you share housing costs with a roommate, partner/spouse or family member? | I pay all costs |
| Q11 | Are you living with any young children? | Yes, If so, please indicate how this impacted your housing search and selection: Dramatically. In Minneapolis, there is a zoning requirement that limits to up to 2 people for room. So, if you live with your spouse and a child, you will need a two-bedroom apartment, even though it is a baby. It affects tremendously your budget if you are staying only for the LL.M. I had to move from a one-bedroom apartment to a two-bedroom apartment (which I don't regret) because of this policy and it was hard to find something affordable in Downtown Minneapolis. |
| Q12 | Are you living with any pet(s)? | No |
| Q13 | How do you commute to St. Thomas Law? Check all that apply. | I walk to/from school outside, I bike to/from school |
| Q14 | How did you find your current housing situation? | In person visit, Please specify.: Walking around my neighborhood I found my apartment in the same street I was living before. |
| Q15 | What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live? | I would recommend living close to the campus. You can walk or bike and have more time to sleep or study. Loring Park is a great area and you can find great places there. Or, an option with skyway would be great! Be prepared to pay a security deposit (generally, one month or two of rent) and the first-month rent right away. If you find something distant from school plan to buy the C-Pass so you can save money on your commute. |
| Q16 | Are there any helpful resources you used that you want to share? | A list of apartment buildings that Cari sent us was very helpful to check the websites. I also checked Google Maps to see the distance to the campus and the names of other apartment buildings around campus. |

Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live?
I live in the Commodore because it was the cheapest option I could find in Downtown $795. The downside to this is you have to walk outside, there is no groceries store near, so you have to walk a lot in cold cold weather to do this. I would recommend LaSalle Apartments if you can, it is worth the extra couple hundred dollars but you'll be much more comfortable, or if you find a roommate this is a good option. But if you don't mind walking in cold weather and save up some money LaSalle or Buckingham apartments are better money wise.
Search for a place near school.

Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live?

For the location, I do recommend it. But I would encourage the new LLMs to find a roommate. I'll cut living expenses and it'll give them more affordable housing options.

Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live?
I think I would choose LaSalle Apartments again because it is connected to St Thomas by the skyway and it takes 7 minutes walking. However, LaSalle it’s not the newest building and the common places are not the best ones. I’d say that skyway is an important tool to take into consideration while housing searching.

Q16 Are there any helpful resources you used that you want to share?
Asking past (or current at that time) LLMs was my resource last year while looking for housing. I’m willing to help you if you have further questions with it!

Q14 How did you find your current housing situation?
Other,
Please specify.:
Former LLM recommended it to me.

Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing?  What housing options you would encourage them to explore?  Do you recommend where you currently live?

The advantage of where I live is that is in the middle of both campuses, so if a person wants to work in the main campus (in St. Paul) and ends his shift late night, can take the public bus back to the apartment even if the shuttle is not working.

The tough part is the commute time, the fact of being far from the rest of the LLM's when special activities are made and having to be outside during the winter.

My best advice will be to look for a roommate and find an apartment for 2 in LaSalle, so far is the cheapest option I have heard and the person will live 2 blocks away from campus.

Q16 Are there any helpful resources you used that you want to share?
If a person decides to live far from the campus I will recommend to check online if it is possible to go there by public transportation. If the answer is yes, I will recommend to buy the public transportation card, it will save the person a lot of money in UBER and will allow him or her to know the city in his spare time without extra cost.

Q15 What advice would you give an incoming LL.M. student regarding housing? What housing options you would encourage them to explore? Do you recommend where you currently live?

I totally recommend look for other options besides Downtown. Public transportation is good and normally you can go through the city in 30 minutes. I’m my case, I definitely recommend Dinkytown, Como and Marcy Holmes.

Q16 Are there any helpful resources you used that you want to share?

It is very important to talk with people and look for Facebook groups of students in Minneapolis/St. Paul (it could be from other universities)
